Unaddict is an extension for Chrome that lets you stop wasting time online by automatically stopping you from visiting addicting websites. It works by adding an icon to the address bar that will remind you every time you access a site blacklisted by the add-on. We all know that apps like LinkedIn and Facebook can have a negative effect on productivity. These and similar apps sometimes are used when we're simply bored, and even though we know that they are non-essential in the long run, we're not quite ready to give them up. Well, thankfully, a small team has created an app that can help you get by without spending too much time on these apps. It doesn't stop you from using them, but it does ensure that you do not lose more time than you should be spending. Appstat shows you exactly how much time you've been wasting on non-essential apps. This application does that by tracking the time you spend on these apps, and gives you an easy to understand report, as well as some tips on how you can fix it. You should read through the page to get a better idea of what it's all about, but here's a quick overview, in case you're not sure: It will show you exactly how much time you waste on these apps and, most importantly, help you to reduce the time by showing you which apps you spend the most time on. Appstat is a simple app that lets you stay productive while using your time app. It's a small, but really useful tool that lets you keep track of your time, and helps you fight the bad habit of wasting your time on apps that are not needed, most likely because you're bored. If you can't seem to stop yourself from wasting time on certain apps, consider using Appstat to help you stay productive and less prone to non-essential time-wasting. We've all heard of the time-wasting habit of social networks such as Facebook and Twitter, and yet, we've had a hard time stopping ourselves from wasting time on them. In fact, we've started spending quite a lot of time on these sites. It's not because we hate them, but because we're simply not aware of how they may influence our productivity. Luckily, a Chrome extension by the name of Unaddict has been designed with the sole purpose of reminding you that you have to stop wasting your time on social networks. As the name suggests, the extension will show you a reminder whenever you try to access

I am trying to send a post request to /en/user/add from a form within a user controller. This only works if I change the url /en/ to /en/test_controller/en/user/add however I would like it to default to the user controller. I have tried putting { _controller : 'UserBundle:User:add' } into the routing.yml, and renaming en/user/add to en/user/add_controller. Neither of these seem to work. My routing.yml user_home: pattern: /en/user/ defaults: { _controller: TestBundle:User:home } user_add: pattern: /en/user/add defaults: { _controller: TestBundle:User:add } My form: public function buildForm(FormBuilderInterface $builder, array $options) {
