observations of my life and the life of those I love. First, a disclaimer: I am not a historian and barely know anything about the history of my family. I have some good research sources and some great insights from my grandparents and aunts and uncles that I am so thankful to have. My mother, the youngest of the five sisters, is the historian in the family and so there are tons of important events, interesting tidbits, and things I might've otherwise never known. I asked my boss if I could work from home for the rest of the day and he said yes. So I had the afternoon and night off. It was an early retirement kind of day and as I sat at my desk, I opened the family history folder. You know what's funny about genealogy is that I think my entire life I've known what I wanted to do with my career. It was my dad 82157476af
